Agenda

This year's Conference will focus on growth and investments. The aim of the morning session is to provide the business community and political institutions with ideas and insights that can facilitate the road to recovery, through an in-depth discussion with key delegates from institutions, major businesses, and global investors.

The afternoon session will follow the path designed for the 2013 Conference on crisis and restructuring, and will feature the speeches of Italian and foreign judges and banks in a format that proved enriching for everyone during the first edition.

Online registration at: <http://www.mo.camcom.it/>

Live streaming of the entire conference will be available at the same website.

Class CNBC will provide live coverage of some key moments of the conference
